Mary Mackillop's reflective saying for this week is:

God be praised, for indeed God's ways are wonderful. 9.8.1898

Dear Parents and Carers,

Congratulations to all students on their efforts to complete assessment tasks over the past two weeks. Today on assembly, we were able to hear one student's piece of writing that has demonstrated all concepts taught this semester – adjectives, complex sentences, and correct punctuation to name a few. Well done Oliver on being brave in sharing his writing.

We are very pleased to announce that our teacher for Prep to Year 3 class will be Meghan Curtin.

Meghan interviewed very well with Casey and myself and her referees have spoken very highly of her. Meghan will visit our school next Thursday and Friday to work in the classroom and with staff on planning for next term. There will also be an afternoon tea for parents to meet and greet Meghan straight after school. We look forward to Meghan joining our team.

Next term's dates have been included in the newsletter but here is a quick reminder about a few of them:

Congratulations to Kaylah after competing in the Darling Downs Athletics trials on Tuesday. She did well coming 6th in her heats for 100m and 200m. She is now determined to train harder next year to do better.

Well done to the four students, Erin, Millah, Tabitha & Kevin, who represented our school at the Darling Downs Region Readers Cup on Tuesday. It was a really enjoyable event with challenging questions and only 30 seconds to write a group response. The students were very lucky to also have one of the authors whose book the students read, Sheryl Gwyther, to compare the event and she signed our school copy. Thank you to Anne Anderson for her time in preparing the students. The team came 14th out of twenty.

Last evening at the PPF, the 2020 school fees proposal was presented. Everyone at the meeting was in agreement to go with the small increase to fees. These are published in this newsletter for your information.

After looking at how we have gone this semester with the stationary, it can be confirmed that the second payment of $45 will be charged next semester to cover the second half of the year's requirements. Thank you to those parents who provided feedback last night at the meeting about how easier it is for them and we can confirm that the teachers have certainly found it beneficial as well.

This week's positive affirmation is "I am in charge of how I feel and today I am choosing happiness." www.womenshealth.com.au/25-positive-affirmations-and-quotes

Yours in God's love

YEARS 1 AND 2

NUMBERS: LEARNING AT HOME

NUMBER ACTIVITY IDEAS WHEN YOU ARE OUT AND ABOUT

In the car

There are many games you can play in the car with your children to keep them occupied:

- Count the number of cars with your children. Make the game more challenging by counting cars of each colour. Keep a tally of the cars counted for each colour and at the end of the journey see which colour wins. Give values to each colour. For example white cars = 1 point, black cars = 2 points, blue cars = 3 points and so on.
- Talk about directions using language such as: left, right, north, south, east and west.
- Show your children how to read the maps in a street directory or electronic navigator using the reference numbers and letters.
- At the service station ask your children questions like: How much does the petrol cost today? and How do you know?

In the neighbourhood

When walking around the neighbourhood with your children:

- point out house numbers and talk about whether they are odd or even
- talk about shapes, for example: The give way sign is a triangle
- talk about directions while walking to a friend's house and the shops.

Shopping

Keep your children occupied when shopping by getting them to:

- point out three-dimensional objects and say what the object is called, for example: This can is a cylinder
- discover and talk about money, coins, notes and credit cards, for example the notes and coins you use to buy things, change that is given, the total amount of the items bought and what a credit and debit card is
- work out how many of each item is needed, for example: If everyone eats two sausages, how many do we need for dinner?
- find and group the heavy, light and tall items when unpacking the shopping.
